George Ostrom—Glacier DVD

Wednesday, May 28, 7 to 9 PM

O'Shaughnessy Cultural Arts Center

Join us for a launch party for George Ostrom's new DVD on the Seasons of Glacier National Park. Ostrom will give an oral narrative during the showing. The Glacier DVD is filled with stunning photography stills depicting the four seasons of Glacier shot by Ostrom on his many hikes throughout the Park. This event is presented in partnership with the Glacier National Park Fund.

Tour North American Indian Days Browning, Friday, July 11

Celebrate North American Indian Days with our neighbors in Browning on Friday, July 11, 2008.

We will travel to Browning in an air-conditioned motor coach with restrooms on board. Once there, our day begins with a visit to the Museum of the Plains Indian where we'll experience contemporary Native American Art and view the Museum's excellent collection of historic artifacts. Next, a traditional Blackfeet meal in a Blackfeet lodge with Guide, Jim McNeely. Then, off to the Grand Entry to watch Indian drumming and dancing, regaled in a magnificent display of traditional Plains Indian outfits. Our Blackfeet Guide will accompany us to interpret the drumming and dancing.

Tickets: $75 in advance only. Register by July 1st. Limited seats available. Call 755-5268 to reserve your space. Bus will depart from the Hockaday at 8am and return by 6pm.

September 12, 13, & 14, 2008

BICYCLE ECLECTIC*May 27 through July 8

Members Reception May 29, 5 to 7 p.m.

Greg Siple
Land of Lawns, Photograph

The Missoula based Adventure Cycling Association was established in 1973 to cater to a growing number of American touring cyclists. The non-profit organization publishes a magazine, produces long distance touring maps, and runs group tours for its 40,000+ members, world wide. ACA members have frequently included the Adventure Cycling Missoula office in their tour itineraries. Fascinated by this marvelous parade of visitors, Adventure Cycling Art Director Greg Siple began making black and white portraits of them and their bikes in the summer of 1982. Now nearly 3,000 portraits later, Siple has taken these riders and bikes back on the road in a 2-year, grand tour of Montana. Men and women, old and young, strait-laced and bizarre, tragic and triumphant - a bit of Everyman is represented in Siple's photographs. The tour is under the auspices of the Museum and Art Gallery Directors Association of Montana (MAGDA of Montana).

Bonus! Vintage bike displays and raffles at the Opening Reception—May 29 from 5-7pm.

NATURE & SPIRIT: FRANK TETRAULT*May 22 through June 29

Members Reception May 29, 5 to 7 p.m.

Meet artist Frank Tetrault and enjoy a closer look at his inspired creations in wood. Tetrault spent 32 months sculpting relief carvings of the Twelve Apostles; the carvings were later commissioned as bronze works for the Methodist Hospital System. Tetrault prefers linden wood for most of his works, sculpting each piece first in clay. The artist explains that this gives him an opportunity to make changes. With wood, "You cut the piece of wood away and it is gone."

When Tetrault became serious about wood carving and learning sculpture concepts, he visited national wood carving schools in Germany and Switzerland. Further training came when he worked with Bavarian master carver, Ludwig Kliening. Over the years, Tetrault has carved his own master works of animals, including birds and a 4-foot tall, standing grizzly bear.

NATURE & SPIRIT
Matthew by Frank Tetrault

The Hockaday will hold Free Community Days May 30 & 31. On those days the public is welcome to browse our galleries from 10am-5pm at no charge. Thankyou Sterling Title Services for sponsoring this event!

An Exhibition

Celebrating the 75th Anniversary of the Going-to-the-Sun Road

June 26—October 18, 2008

The Hockaday Museum has developed a major exhibition to celebrate momentous Going-to-the-Sun Road on the occasion of its 75th Anniversary. Rails, Trails and a Road features historic photographs and video footage of the building of the Sun Road; paintings by acclaimed Glacier Park painters Joseph Abbrescia (1936-2005); and John Fery (1859-1934). In the 1920's the Great Northern Railroad commissioned Fery to paint Glacier's "Alps of America."

Glacier National Park's Highway to the Sky is skillfully depicted in Going-to-the-Sun Road by C.W. Guthrie. Ms. Guthrie will be signing copies of her book during the opening reception for Rails, Trails and a Road. (Book also available in the Museum's Off the Wall Gift Gallery)

Contemporary paintings by nationally and regionally respected artists Mark Ogle, Nicholas Oberling, Monte Dolack, Bonnie Closson, Nancy Dunlop Cawdrey and Linda Tippetts are a significant part of Rails, Trails and a Road. Tippetts' 1993 painting of the Sun Road won the coveted Grand Prize in the Top 100 Arts for the Park's Contest. View this and three other Tippetts' paintings of the Sun Road in this exhibit.

Also highlighted in the exhibition: nationally recognized wildlife sculptor Sherry Salari Sander; local photographer Ed Gilliland; past Glacier Park Artist-in-Residence, Roy Hughes' whose Sun Road series in graphic design spans the entire road from St. Mary's to the West Entrance.

Nancy Dunlop Cawdrey, Going-to-the-Sun, 46 x 61, dye on silk

"Going to the Sun 2008," dye on silk painting by Nancy Dunlop Cawdrey is a signature exhibition piece for Rails, Trails, and a Road. It is available for purchase through sealed bid; minimum opening bid: $14,000. Bidding will begin on June 27 at the Sun Road 75th Anniversary Celebration event in Glacier National Park.

Proceeds from the sale of Cawdrey's "Going to the Sun 2008" will benefit the four partners of Glacier National Park: Glacier National Park Fund, Glacier Association, Glacier Institute and the Glacier Park Associates.

Belva Curtis, Portrait of Ace Powell, HMA Permanent Collection in Memory of Rex Breneman

NEW ACQUISITIONS

The Hockaday Museum's permanent collection continues to grow in size and quality. The New Year brought several generous gifts, most notably thirteen Ace Powell oil paintings from Pat McClarty. Donald Baughman donated Two Faces of Napi, a bronze by Ace Powell, edition #1. Baughman made his gift in memory of our late friend, Rex Breneman. Breneman was a friend of Powell's who sold the artist's work and published Ace Powell in Bronze. Rex and Iola Breneman were long-time friends of the Hockaday. Iola recently presented the Hockaday Museum with a portrait of Ace Powell painted by Belva R. Curtis. Iola's gift was also in loving memory of Rex. Since 1985, Miriam and Joseph Sample have been donating works by major Montana artists

Richard Notkin, Por Que? (After Goya) - detail, HMA Permanent Collection
Gift of Miriam and Joseph Sample

to Museums around the state in an effective effort to preserve art for public display. Over the years they have donated four major works to the Hockaday Museum, by artists Patrick Zentz, Frances Dillon Foley and David Shaner. Their recent donation includes five etchings by Montana artist Richard Notkin, noted for his print-making and thought-provoking ceramic works. Excellent additions to our Contemporary Montana Artist Collection.

HUBBLE CONTEMPORARY INDIAN ART FUND

Don Baughman, one of the Hockaday Museum's Associate Directors has established the Nancy and John

Hubble Contemporary Indian Art Fund at the Hockaday. The Fund honors John Hubble, who passed away recently after a battle with cancer. Nancy and John Hubble gifted 20 paintings by Blackfeet artist, King Kuka to the Hockaday Museum of Art. The Hubble Contemporary Indian Art Fund will help build the Hockaday's collection of contemporary Indian art, and further our Art Education Outreach programs wherein shared art experiences bridge cultures and generations through new awareness, appreciation and respect.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Nancy Westberg received the Hockaday Museum's 1st Annual Mark Norley Volunteer of the Year Award!

Mark Norley has been a major volunteer force behind the Hockaday Museum for more than 15 years, helping with everything from being President of the Board to hanging art shows and helping host special events. Mark has been there for the Hockaday Museum in every season and literally at all hours. Mark's special brand of support has helped the Hockaday present numerous events and exhibitions of exceptional quality. Volunteers like Mark have enabled us to grow and operate at a highly professional level. We applaud and thank Mark for 15 years of dedicated and invaluable service! The Mark Norley Volunteer of the Year Award will be conferred each March at the Hockaday Museum of Art Annual Meeting.

Nancy Westberg is the 2008 recipient for the Mark Norley Volunteer of the Year Award. She has been instrumental to the Hockaday since becoming a member five years ago. During the last two years Nancy served as Membership Chair for the Guild of the Hockaday Museum.

There her efforts helped bring Museum Membership to record levels! Today, memberships stand at 975 for a total of more than 1,500 individuals served. Everywhere Nancy goes she brings membership brochures and continually invites people to become acquainted with the Hockaday. The services of this "gem of a volunteer" are priceless!

Congratulations to Kenny Yarus and Lexy Rianda winners in this year's New Artists 2008 Show. Two awards are given each year for outstanding work by young artists. Kenny Yarus' oil painting, Symbolic Fruit, was selected Curator's Choice - Best in Show. A $100 stipend for art education from the Guild of the Hockaday Museum came with the honor. Lexy Rianda's watercolor, Running Horses, was voted the People's Choice Award winner by those attending the Show's opening reception.
