Donald Baughman

REDLODGE

Sept 13, 1956 - Dec 23, 2008

*When you were born,
you cried
and the world rejoiced.
Live your life
so that when you die,
the world cries
and you rejoice.*

White Elk

The Hockaday Museum of Art will forever cherish Donald Baughman for his generous spirit, depth of character and knowledge, kind perspective, and wonderful humor and style. Hockaday Museum staff appreciated his faithful attendance at Museum functions, insights and advice on matters of art and culture, and willingness to help in any way that he was needed. Donald would sweep into the galleries on a breath of high interest energy, and leave us with some new gem ...a curious detail on a painting, the story behind an artist, a glimpse into the culture or politics that influenced a work or style of art. We are never ready to say good-bye to our best people and Donald was one of those Best. We miss him very much.

Farewell dear friend, with our love and memories and respect.

At the Baughman family's request, the Hockaday Museum of Art has established a Donald Baughman Memorial Fund. Gifts to this memorial fund will support the development and enhancement of the Hockaday Museum's Native American Perspectives Exhibition Program. Donations may be made to the Hockaday Museum of Art, Attn: Donald Baughman Memorial Fund.

The Hockaday Museum of Art is a registered 501(c)(3) tax exempt organization - EIN810303038.

An Evening with Author Alan Weltzien

Wednesday, March 11 5 – 7:30pm

Admission: $10 / adults, $5 with student ID, Museum members free

Join us Wednesday, March 11 for An Evening with Alan Weltzien. The author will be introduced by his literary colleague and friend Lowell Jaeger, himself an award-winning writer. Jaeger teaches creative writing at FVCC, and is the founder of Many Voices Press. Weltzien will present his latest book, The Norman Maclean Reader and his personal memoirs, A Father and an Island: Reflections on Loss. The evening will include a catered reception with music by the popular duet "Betty and the Boy", readings by Weltzien and Jaeger, and a book-signing session.

'Weltzien provides a broad and chronological selection from nearly four decades of Maclean's writing, and new biographical insights into one of the most remarkable and unexpected careers in American letters.'

Dan Fagre Presentation returns by popular demand

Losing a Legacy: A Photographic Story of Disappearing Glaciers

5 – 7pm Thursday, April 2

Admission: $10 / adults, $5 with student ID, Museum members free

Losing a Legacy: A Photographic Story of Disappearing Glaciers The exhibition, which blends the science of climate change research with the aesthetic of landscape photography from Glacier National Park, opened at the Hockaday Museum on January 29 with a reception and artist's presentation to a standing room only crowd. Since then, so many have visited the exhibition and expressed interest in hearing Dan Fagre speak, that we have asked him for an encore presentation on April 2. Fagre is Research Ecologist and Climate Change Research Coordinator for Northern Rocky Mountain Science Center, USGS. He is stationed at Glacier National Park.

Montana on the Move / New Artists 2009
